OUT OF DANGER.

Doctors Say President McKinley
Will Recover Beyond Doubt.

Most of the Visiting Statesmen
Leave For Their Homes—
Patient Able to Eat.

Buffalo, Sept. 11.—The corps of eminent surgeons and physicians in attendance upon the wounded President yesterday committed themselves without reservation to the opinion that the patient was out of danger. They did not give assurance of his recovery collectively over their signatures in an official bulletin, but individually and separately during the day. "Of course we will all feel easier when a week has passed," said Dr. Burney, the dean of the corps. "We would like to see every door locked and double-locked, but the dangers from possible complications are now very remote. The little piece of lead in the muscles of the back is giving the physicians no concern whatever. Unless it should prove troublesome to the President later on, he will probably carry this grim souvenir of anarchism to the end of his days."

The Vice-President, members of the cabinet, Senator Hanna and other distinguished friends of the President accepted the verdict of the physicians to-day as practically conclusive and there was an exodus of those who considered their presence no longer necessary. Vice-President Roosevelt left this evening for his home at Oyster Bay, Senator Hanna returned to Cleveland and Comptroller Dawes to Washington tonight. Abner McKinley, the President's brother, will remain a few days longer, but his family returned home and Mrs. Duncan and several other relatives have gone. Five members of the cabinet are still here and will remain a few days. The President will be taken direct to Washington as soon as safe.

The President to-day showed confidence in his ability to care for himself and several times carefully turned himself to get a more restful position. A most important development of the day was the determination of those in charge of the case that food should be administered to the patient tomorrow by the mouth. Not since the shooting has a morsel of food been given the President by natural means, but the drain on his system has been met by drainage of food administered by injection. The importance of this feeding by the mouth is that it will restore the normal action of the stomach for the first time since that organ had both its walls pierced by a bullet. The doctors are satisfied that the time has come to renew these normal functions and are assured that the wounds in the stomach are closed.

The only persons admitted to the sick room to-day other than the doctors and attendants were Mrs. McKinley and Secretary Cortelyou. Although the President is pronounced out of danger, no member of the cabinet has yet been within the sick room, nor have the Vice-President and Judge Day seen the President.

The dramatic phase of the situation here is rapidly disappearing. Plans averted by the assassin's bullet are being restored and matters are rapidly assuming normal conditions. The exposition has suffered severely in attendance since the tragedy and the managers are now organizing for a great thanksgiving celebration, which they expect to prove a great card for the fair and hope will be made a day of national rejoicing.

They are arranging that on a certain day the bells of all the cities and towns in the United States be rung, and that the rejoicing be heralded with the tooting of whistles and the booming of cannon.

NO PRIMARY.

State Committees so Decides by a Vote of 7 to 11.

Question Referred to Next State Convention in Absence of Any Authority Act.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 11.—Democratic leaders and politicians from all over Kentucky gathered here yesterday to attend the meeting of the state committees of the party, at which was to be discussed the advisability of a primary to choose a nominee for the United States Senate.

Among the Democrats present at the meeting were Charles K. Wheeler, D. H. Smith, J. B. McCreary, J. E. Cantrill, Ollie James, Ben D. Ringo, J. M. Lassing, G. T. Flinn, C. M. Lewis, Charles M. Meacham, South Trimble, Albert S. Berry, T. T. Hedger, Allie W. Young, Allison Holland, John Vreeland, Clem Huggins, Clem Whittemore, John S. Smith, D. Linn Gooch, J. Willard Mitchell, James Hargis, M. L. Downs, John L. Dunlap, Charles Carroll, James H. Hazelrigg, Campbell Cantrill, Jack Chinn, Josh Griffith, J. C. Coleman.

All of the members of the central committee except Jones and of the executive committee except Dishman, Gardner and Lee answered the roll call, either in person or by proxy.

Before the transaction of any business by the committee, Mr. Whittemore offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

"We, the state central and executive committees of the Democratic party of Kentucky, denouncing all forms of anarchy and lawlessness, especially condemn assassination as a means of redress, and with the balance of the nation we pray God to spare the life of our president, William McKinley."

Chairman Young then stated the purpose of the meeting and called on the candidates for senator to express themselves.

Messrs. Wheeler and Smith favored a primary Dec. 15, after the election, and Judge Cantrill favored one at the regular election. Mr. McCreary opposed a primary at this late date.

Referred to Convention.

At the conclusion of the speeches committees Vreeland moved to refer the matter of nominating a candidate by the people to the next Democratic state convention. Col. Chinn seconded the motion, and before the question was put the committee went into executive session.

By a vote of 11 to 7 the committee adopted the Vreeland motion, which kills the idea of a primary election this fall or winter to select a nominee.

Those voting for the motion were: Meacham, Huggins, Lassing, Morgan, Rhea, Vreeland, Pugh, Hedger, Chinn, Adams, Hargis—11. Those voting against it were: Ayers, Roark, Ringo, Whittemore, Griffith, Board and Garnett.

It was agreed to let Allie Young, chairman of the state central and executive committees, appoint the campaign committee, with the approval of the majority of the state central committee.

LOST A HORSE.

Railroad Company Sued For Estimated Value of Animal.

Mr. Elwing C. Wood has sued the L. & N. for $170. He alleges that the company, in transporting a horse from Memphis, Tenn., to Trenton, Ky., the animal owing to carelessness and negligence on the part of the company's employees, was so badly injured that it died shortly after reaching its destination. The horse was valued at $150 by plaintiff, and the services of a veterinary, medicine, etc., amounted to $20.

COURT OF INQUIRY.

Organized in Washington Yesterday to Try the Hero of Santiago.

Washington, Sept. 11.—All the members of the Schley Court of Inquiry are now in Washington. Rear Admiral Howison, the third member arriving last night. Rear Admiral Howison was extremely guarded in answering inquiries respecting the Court of Inquiry. He said it would not be proper to say anything for publication in advance of the meeting of the court as to his intentions or probable line of action of the court. It was evident, however, that he has not in any degree altered his resolution to serve as a member of the court if the other members accept his own view as to his qualifications.

Everything is ready for the meeting of the court. The impression at the Navy Department now is that the taking of the testimony will not begin tomorrow, although that was the original expectation. A large number of witnesses are in Washington ready to take the stand at a moment's notice, but formalities are expected to consume most of the session tomorrow, which after all, is likely to be short owing to the late hour of beginning.

FACTS COMING OUT.

Czolgosz's Arrest May Yet Startle
The Country.

Buffalo, Sept. 11.—Leon F. Czolgosz has confessed to the police that his attempt upon the life of the President was the result of a conspiracy in which many besides himself had a part. So far as can be learned, Czolgosz has refused to mention any name except that of Emma Goldman, but papers are in existence which, if they can be discovered, will lay bare the entire conspiracy, and will result in wholesale arrests, followed by prosecutions.

Acting under instructions from Secretary Root, the police still refuse the details of the confession made by Czolgosz, but if the would-be assassin's confession were published in full a wave of indignation against anarchism would sweep over the country, which would inevitably result in serious disorders. While Czolgosz retains his show of bravado, he announces his determination of entering a plea of guilty when he is brought to trial.

MORE SHOOTING.

Home of a Non-Union Miner in Hopkins County Fired Into.

Earlington, Ky., Sept. 11.—The house of a non-union miner, Thos. Laprade, was shot into last night at Barney mine, near here. Sixteen shots entered the small house, where three men were living. One shot struck the fence and two or three passed through Laprade's house and struck the house standing next. All the shots were from thirty-eight caliber Winchester rifles.

This morning three piles of empty shells were found thirty-five yards from the house. On a slope covered with weeds there were nineteen empty shells and one loaded one that had been snapped. The number of men in the union camp at Madisonville is increasing.

NO CHANGE.

In Prices of the Weed On Local Market.

The tobacco sales this week amounted to 280 hogsheds.

The sales were private and prices realized were about the same as those of last week and the week before. All characters of the weed were offered. The receipts for the week were 155 hogsheds. Sales for the year amount to 10,785 hogsheds. Receipts for the year foot up 12,145 hogsheds.

Emma Goldman is in jail in Chicago under a charge of complicity in the assassination of President McKinley.

Now is a good time to put Gov. Durbin, of Indiana, on record on the question of government by assassination.

It is conceded on every hand that the next Legislature of Kentucky will be Democratic by a majority of about five in the Senate and 25 or 30 in the House.

Czolgow has confessed to the police that the assassination of President McKinley was the result of a conspiracy, in which Emma Goldman is implicated.

The Goebel Monument Commission has appointed a committee to select a design for the monument. It will probably be a marble shaft 150 ft. high, surmounted by a life size bronze figure of the martyred Governor.

The attorneys for Jim Howard secured a continuance of his case until January on a technicality, the failure of the commonwealth to notify the defendant ten days before the opening of the term that it would insist on a new trial of the case. The attorneys for Howard are feeling good over securing a continuance, and one of them expressed the belief that the public will know all of the details of the Goebel murder conspiracy before he is again called to trial. The Caleb Powers case will be tried at Georgetown next month.

THAT INSTITUTE RESOLUTION.

In a recent editorial the Kentuckian took the ground that politics should be kept out of the schools, at the same time criticizing an endorsement by the County Institute of the Republican nominee for School Superintendent.

In the interest of fairness, we will again state that there was no intention to hold Miss McDaniel accountable for the mistakes of her friends. The resolution referred to is here given:

"Believing that in our worthy superintendent we have a true friend of education, we extend to her our sincere thanks for her efforts in raising the standard of our common school, and in view of the fact that in the immediate future there exists a strong need of skillful guidance of the educational interests of our county, we unhesitatingly and cheerfully endorse Miss McDaniel's candidacy for re-election."

This rather mild endorsement is not of the sweeping character we were led to believe when the article was written. In some respects our information was misleading. The facts seem to bear out Miss McDaniel's contention that the resolution was not sprung as a partisan measure at a time when the Democrats were absent. It was reported by the regular committee and passed without being separated from the other resolutions. Several Democrats were present, who let the matter go through without objection. In justification of this endorsement, the friends of Miss McDaniel claim that Prof. S. L. Frogge, a Democrat, was given a similar one eight years ago.

Now that honors on this score appear to be even, it is to be hoped that both parties will in the future unite in the effort to keep politics out of the institutes, as well as the churches of the county.

An anarchist is "one who excites revolt or promotes disorder in a State." The word is pronounced an-arch-ant and not an-ark-ist, as we sometimes hear it called. A good many people in Kentucky who are now loudest in condemnation of Czolgow's crime, were themselves anarchists less than two years ago.

After all, the country is not to have as its President a man who offered protection to one of the fugitives under indictment for complicity in the assassination of Gov. Goebel. This is one additional cause for rejoicing in Kentucky for the recovery of the President, who refused to order out troops to intimidate the Kentucky Legislature.

Wm. Allen, of Sunderland, has been voted the bravest among 700 heroes who distinguished themselves in England last year. He saved three lives by risking his own four times, by descending into a pit in which three of his fellow workmen had been overcome by foul air. He was given a gold medal by the Royal Humane Society.

Hon. Franklin Landers, of Indiana, died Wednesday. Mr. Landers served several terms in the Legislature, was elected to Congress in 1874 by the Democrats, serving one year, and in 1880 was nominated by the Democrats for Governor. He made a brilliant canvass but was defeated along with Hancock and English.

The soldiers, detectives and bystanders are now busy asserting their claims to the honor of being first to grab Czolgow after the shooting. The doctors have not yet entered upon a discussion of the question as to which one saved the President's life.

THE JOHN ROBINSON SHOWS.

A Gorgeous, Sumptuous and Impressive Augmentation.

The acme of scenic splendor was reached when John Robinson produced the great spectacle of Solomon, His Temple and the Queen of Sheba.

No court was greater in all that pertained to magnificence than Solomon's, and as historically reproduced with dozens of calcium and varicolored lights on the brilliant costumes and scintillating armor, it has received unstinted praise from all who have been fortunate enough to witness the grand spectacle.

The circus has been characterized as the most interesting in its unexceptional features and in the general excellence of its ring performances. The menagerie is large and comprehensive and includes living specimens of the rarest beasts, birds, reptiles and amphibians. The colossal Roman hippodrome is in itself a feature that has no duplication and carries the spectator back to Imperial Caesar's day.

The show will exhibit at Hopkinsville Friday Sept. 13.

DWELLING DESTROYED

But Contents Saved—There Was No Insurance.

The dwelling house of Teny Watkins, North Campbell street, was totally destroyed by fire, together with outbuildings, Tuesday evening about 6:30 o'clock. All of the furniture was saved. It is not known how the flames originated.

The fire department responded promptly to the alarm, but the house was not sufficiently long to reach the nearest water plug, and nothing could be done. Horse wagon No. 2 broke down while going to the fire.

The loss is about $500. Watkins had no insurance.

He Owe His Life to the Forethought of a Companion.

While on a camping trip in Webster county, Mr. S. L. Stump, of Normanton, W. Va., had a severe attack of bloody flux. He says, "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the forethought of one of the company who had taken along a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." Moral—Procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board of a steamer or ship, and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. Thousands of travelers never leave home on a journey without it. For sale by all druggists.

J. T. WALL & CO.

Public Sale.

The heirs at law of J. H. Rutherford, deceased, will, on Monday, September 23rd, 1901, at the Court House door in Russellville, Kentucky, offer for sale to the highest bidder, the home place, whereon the said J. H. Rutherford lived and died, situated on the Russellville and Elkton road, about eight miles from Russellville, in Logan county, and containing 300 acres.

Said farm is in a high state of cultivation, about 200 acres cleared and 100 acres of very fine timber. The land whereon said timber stands is as good as any in the county. This farm is well watered with two never failing wells, cistern, fine spring running through the horse lot, and one pond.

The improvements consist of a good two-story dwelling house of eight rooms, two halls, front and back porches; two new tenant houses, two new tobacco barns, a fine new stock barn, large tool house, buggy house, granary and all needed outbuildings.

TERMS: The sale will be for one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest from date and with lien retained to secure the deferred payments.

The property may be bought privately at any time prior to the above named date.

Mr. Geo. D. Rutherford, who lives on the premises will show the property at any time to prospective purchasers. For further information apply to him or address

P. R. McLEAN, Ferguson, Ky., or J. W. BAILEY, Newstead, Ky.

HOWELL NOTES.

Howell, Ky., Sept. 7.—As we have seen nothing in your columns for some time from our little town, it is no sign it has been dead, for it has certainly been revived, or rather the young people have, after having such a visitor as Miss Carrie Fuller, of Memphis, Tenn., in their midst; but the young men were made to feel very sad Tuesday morning as the 10:58 train pulled in and carried away one of the most attractive, noblest, and the sweetest young ladies that the people of Howell have ever seen in their midst. She will certainly be remembered by all, for their hearts are certainly wrecked by her leaving, and the writer hopes she will return to our community again to make us a visit to cheer up the young people and make others happy as well.

Miss Marguerite Rives gave her Sunday-School class a picnic at Noah's Spring Friday afternoon from 4 to 7 p. m., and it was certainly enjoyed by all who were allowed the pleasure of being present, as the nicest of the season. Those present were: Misses Lillian Giles, Jessie Embury, Leona Keatts, Proctor, Hallie King, Gabe (Gabe) Keatts, Mary Nuckols and Edna Keatts. Messrs. Oney Wilson, Tandy Grubbs, Winston Davis, Thos. Terrell, Isaac Terrell, John Boyd and Rev. W. H. Vaughan.

We are glad to say the sick of our community are rapidly improving. Barkdale Caldwell, who has been confined to his bed for eleven weeks with typhoid fever, is clear of fever again and it is hoped he will soon be able to be out again. His little brother, Morton, who has had the same kind of fever, is up.

The farmers have been quite busy trying to clean the worms off their tobacco this week, so as to be able to cut the first of next week. The crop is comparatively clean now and is the finest crop that has been raised in this county for years.

Miss Thursa Lowry left last week for Bethel Female College, where she will graduate this season. Cheer up little "trowns eyes," for she will return for good after this session.

Mr. Thos. F. Clardy is smiling from ear to ear over the arrival of another ten pound girl, this morning, as if he didn't have any girl at all, already.

Graves Lyle, who has had appendicitis, is out and left for Dawson Springs last Thursday.

The schools all opened here September 2, with full attendance.

THE WHOLE SYSTEM

May Boome Invaded by Cataract—Manager Pfau's Case.

J. Louis Pfau, Jr., Manager Central Trust Co., writes from suite 201, Times-Herald Building, Chicago, Ill., as follows:

"Last June I had a severe attack of nasal catarrh which was very annoying and debilitated my system. Seeing your advertisement I wrote you for advice. I used Peruna constantly until last November, when the symptoms disappeared entirely."

J. Louis Pfau, Jr., Hon. James Lewis, Surveyor General of Louisiana, says: "I have used Peruna for a short time and can cheerfully recommend it as being all you represent and wish every man who is suffering with catarrh could know of its great value."

James Lewis. "Wherever the catarrh is, there is sure to be a waste of mucus. The mucus is as precious as blood. It is blood, in fact. It is blood plasma—blood with the corpuscles removed. To stop this waste, you must stop this catarrh. A course of treatment with Peruna never fails to do this."

Hon. W. E. Schneider, proprietor of the Baltic Hotel, of Washington, D. C., speaks of Peruna as follows: "I desire to say that I have found Peruna a most wonderful remedy. I have only used one bottle and am thoroughly satisfied as to its merits. I cannot find words to express my gratification for the results obtained."

Send for free catarrh book. Address The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio.

STITCHERY AND MUSIC.

Queen Alexandra is Proud of Her Needle. Plans with Which She Performs Wonders.

Alexandra, the new queen consort of Great Britain, is so well known as a clever milliner, a branch of stitchery that appeals to her liking for pretty things, that her other accomplishments are apt to pass unnoticed.

At one time she took great pleasure in designing the most charming chair back patterns, which she embroidered in silk chosen for the exquisite coloring and artistic blending, in an uncommon style known as the Italian among clever embroiderers. Then she is an expert worker in embossed leather, which skillful are she inaugurated at the technical school that bears her name at Sandringham.

On not one instrument, but on many, Queen Alexandra, who is, as all the world knows, a doctor of music as well as a queen, is a distinguished and highly accomplished performer. She plays on uncommon instruments such as the sitar, dulcimer and harp, and is a specialist in superb execution, who has delighted to play sometimes for sweet charity's sake. She took lessons from Sir Charles Hallé, among other noteworthy instrumentalists, and at Marlborough house has played in every entertaining room, in some even complete. Her water colors are little gems of beauty and artistic feeling, and especially is she fond of depicting the wet sunny sweeps of a low-flying coast, which she has painted in her regard as a Danish princess, reminding her of the picturesque scenes of her father's kingdom.

Like the king, Queen Alexandra is devotedly attached to dogs, and has taught her children to be fond of all animals and to keep numbers of pets. The year before last the prince of Wales, as she was then, was delighted to receive as a birthday present from her husband and portrait of her two pet spaniels, little and Panchito, funny little things and Japanese dogs of delicate coloring and dainty physique.

It is particularly interesting to know that the late queen admired dog miniatures, and a month before she died her two favorites, Panchito and Turi and Marco made a very pretty group. Marco sitting up with steady and dignified air, and Turi lying down with one paw, daintily raised. It was Marco for which her majesty asked when she was lying ill a few days before she died. The little creature was lifted upon the bed and nestled up to his mistress for the last time.

NOT EASILY DROWNED.

A French Scientist's Curious Experiments with Insects.

Mr. Devaux, French biologist, recently made experiments with insects, his object being, according to the St. Louis Republic, to ascertain how long they would be able to resist asphyxiation after they had been submerged in water.

An ant, he says, after being submerged, doubles itself bodily up three or four times and then breathes absolutely inert. Though apparently drowned, it is so long as it moves it is taken out of the water, and at the end of five or ten minutes it walks about as well as ever. If they remain submerged for several hours, say from six to eight, ants require a longer period, at least half an hour, to recover themselves. The direct heat of the sun seems to benefit them greatly. Even if the submersion lasts for 24 hours most of the drowned ants come back to life.

They do not begin to move for half or three-quarters of an hour and their first tokens of life are so slight that they can only be seen through microscope. If an ant is lightly touched while it is making these weak movements it becomes more brisk and acts as though it had just been aroused from sleep.

According to M. Devaux, some ants can even be restored to life after they have been in the water for 60 hours. Others, on the contrary, though they manifest a few signs of life, die at the end of one or two days.

"I have," he says, "recently manifested a momentary return to life after it had been submerged for 110 hours. I left three ants lying inert at the bottom of a vessel of water from six o'clock in the morning of May 9 to eight o'clock in the morning of May 14, and when I took them out one became quite lively after it had passed a few hours in the open air. This insect, therefore, recovered completely after it had been five days under water. I do not believe that there is on record any example of an insect being resuscitated in this wonderful manner."

One would naturally think that insects which generally live in the water and which only occasionally come to the surface for the purpose of breathing would be able to resist asphyxiation longer than ants and other land insects, but such is not the case. The experiments made by M. Devaux show that aquatic insects are more easily asphyxiated than ants. He placed five ten hours in a running stream several of the former in such a manner that they could not come up to the surface, and when he took them out they made only a few weak movements and died soon afterward.

AN INTERESTING PATIENT.

The Treatment of a Sick Rhinoceros at Schoenbrunn.

An interesting patient at the Schoenbrunn menagerie, the sick rhinoceros, appears at length to have recovered from the severe attack of influenza under which she has been suffering, says the London Telegraph. A few days ago she had her first walk in the open air, a strongly barred enclosure in the park near the elephant's ground having been assigned to her. She showed signs of illness during the latter part of her voyage, and her van from Trieste to Vienna was heated by 60 hot water. Unfortunately, on reaching the city, a chilly day increased her cold, and she refused all food. She was ordered daily five to six quarts of camomile tea and several quarts of red wine. She swallowed this strange diet with great willingness, and, perhaps, preferred it to the chopped hay and green food to which she has now returned. The fear of approaching her made the surgeon's task difficult, for even a sick rhinoceros is enormously strong. She is a fine young female, 24 years old, and was sent to the emperor's menagerie from the Malay peninsula. Great interest has been taken in her recovery, among her visitors being the German emperor prince.

The treatment employed by the veterinary surgeon has also been much criticized, but the result shows it correct.

A Walking Test.

Mr. J. Nugent, 44 Crosby street, Maryport, performed a remarkable walking test last London Tri-List, accomplishing 80 miles in 244 hours, without stopping to rest. Leaving Maryport he walked via Colermouth to Newick, thence via Bawthorpe to Carlisle, and from Carlisle home. Mr. Nugent, who is 54 years of age, is of slight build, and did not train for the task. He carried some barley bread, which he ate while walking, and drank water. He has been a vegetarian 25 years, and is a nonsmoker and teetotaler.

TO BE RE-MARRIED.

Actor Canfield Will Marry His First Wife Again.

"Always Loved 'Gene And He Says His Feelings Are Of Similar Character."

Eugene Canfield, the comedian, of New York, and his first wife, Miss Hattie L. Richmond, are to be re-married on September 10, when Mr. Canfield opens his theatrical season, supporting David Warfield.

Canfield and Miss Richmond were married and divorced years ago; both, since the separation, have had marital experience of their own.

Miss Richmond was married to Canfield in 1880. For six years they lived happily. Then Mrs. Canfield sued for divorce, naming an actress.

Some time later Miss Robinson—she had resumed her maiden name—married James McKeon, a book-maker and sporting man of Boston. She retired from the stage.

Canfield also married again, his second wife being Sallie Stenbier, an actress.

In 1894 McKeon died, and his wife, again resumed her maiden name—Miss Richmond—returned to the stage. Soon thereafter the second Mrs. Canfield began a suit for divorce, and obtained a decree.

Miss Richmond and the comedian did not meet until three weeks ago, when by chance they came together in the dining-room of the Waldorf-Astoria. There was an affectionate greeting on both sides.

"We fixed it up the next day," said Miss Richmond, "and we are to be married on the 10th. I find I have always loved Gene, and he says his feelings regarding me have been of a similar character."

A WELSH RAREBIT.

Lillian M. Siegfried Tells How to Make One in the August Woman's Home Journal.

First of all have a large dish (a pretty salad bowl looks well used with the wooden salad spoon) filled with cheese cut into squares the size of hickorynuts. New, fresh cheese melts better than any other, although it is really wise to try your cheese before the eventful evening, as there is nothing so deceptive when it comes to making Welsh rarebits. Have also a good-sized bottle of wood alcohol, one-half pint of milk, or beer if preferred, though the latter is not necessary, one-half teaspoonful of mustard to each half dozen plates of toast of medium thickness and delicately browned and the crust removed—all this previously prepared and on hand, as there must be no running about after forgotten articles, the closest attention being given to the cooking rarebit, or a dire failure will be the result and the evening practically spoiled.

When the pan is moderately warm put in a piece of butter the size of a walnut; when this is melted add the cheese—two pounds to six people—and then the mustard; allow this to melt slowly, mounding with a spoon, but not stirring; when nearly melted put in the liquid, stirring very slowly, carefully and smoothly; usually one-half pint is enough, sometimes a little too much. By putting in the liquid slowly and not cooking too rapidly this is easily determined. On a very hot plate place one of the pieces of toast, and over this pour enough cheese to cover it nicely. The hostess must have a careful eye and work rapidly, keeping the rarebit as closely to the fire as possible during the pouring process, adding a little liquid and stirring again if it becomes too thick. Your guests will pay you the greatest courtesy by immediately eating their bit, and not standing on the ceremony and waiting for the rest to be served, thereby ruining your efforts to give them a delicacy which in the meantime is ruined in the effort to be polite.

LOW RATES

Secured By The Louisville Interstate Fair Association.

The Fair Opens on September 23 and Closes October 5.

The Louisville Interstate Fair Association has succeeded in getting better rates to Louisville than ever before granted a fair association. They embrace a larger territory and are extended for a longer period of time than is usual. They cover all territory east of the Mississippi river, south of the Great Lakes and as far west as Pittsburg. In the south these rates cover all points east of the Mississippi and South of the Ohio, river, within a radius of five hundred miles from Louisville. The attractive feature about the rate is that the tickets will be on sale the first three days of each week of the fair and final extension limit is granted until October 7.

The Louisville and Nashville, Southern railway, Illinois Central, Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis, and Chesapeake and Ohio have put in special rate of one fare for the round trip from all points in Kentucky, which include such cities as Shelbyville, Lawrenceburg, Waddy, Versailles, Richmond, Winchester, Mount Sterling, Lexington, Paris, Cynthiana, Falmouth, Mayfield, Frankfort, Midway, Georgetown, Williamstown, Leitchfield, Beaver Dam, Mayfield, Princeton, Paducah, Fulton, Greenville and intermediate points on all the lines. These tickets will be sold September 23 to 27, inclusive, and September 30 to October 4, inclusive, and also for trains due to reach Louisville by 1 o'clock p. m., October 5. These tickets will have a final return limit of October 7.

On September 27, which has been set apart for Tennessee Day tickets will be sold from every point in Tennessee to Louisville at one fare for the round trip good returning until October 5.

WANTED LOVE POWDERS

And Clerk Gave Guileless Boy Sugar of Milk.

A youth of about eighteen summers, says Bob Willingham, who probably for a greater portion of his life has been hanging to his mother's apron and just cut loose, entered a certain drug store in this city Tuesday and stepping up to the clerk very meekly injured if they had any "love powders." The clerk caught on right away and said they had. "Well, I want a nickel's worth," said the youth. The clerk went behind the prescription case and put up a small amount of sugar of milk and handed it to the guileless boy, who took it going away with the happy thought that he would yet win the smiles and affection of some fair dame.—Dixie Democrat.

WIRE IN THROAT.

Little Boy Suffered Peculiar Accident at Uniontown.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. John Merritt, of this city, suffered a peculiar accident this week. The little fellow had been complaining of his throat hurting him, for several days. Monday he was attacked by a severe fit of coughing. His mother ran to his relief and extracted a small piece of screen wire two inches in length from his throat with her fingers.—Uniontown Telegram.

To Remove Freckles.

To remove stubborn freckles first try powdered borax; two drachms; chloride of potash, one drachm; rectified spirits, three drachms; glycerine, one-half ounce; rose water, six ounces. Apply with a soft sponge several times a day. If a more powerful remedy be needed take of the above lotion 100 parts. Add to that sixty parts of glycerine, ten parts of hydrochloric acid and eight parts of chrys-hydrate of ammonia. Your dermatologist can easily mix it for you in these proportions. Apply night and morning with a small paint brush.

HOW GEN. GRANT LOST HIS "HIRAM."

It Was a Friend's Mistake That Deprived Him Forever of His Real Name.

Not many Americans know that Hiram U. Grant was the eighteenth President of the United States. Yet it is true, for "Ulysses Simpson" was never legally the name of our greatest General. This interesting fact is brought out by Franklin B. Wiley in The Ladies' Home Journal for September, in "Famous People as We Do Not Know Them." The story of how it came about was told by a member of Congress—Thomas L. Hamer—who recommended young Grant as a candidate for West Point. Mr. Hamer had long been a friend of the Granta, but when he came to make out the application papers for Ulysses he could not recall the boy's full name. So, deciding that he was doubtless named by his mother's family, he wrote it "Ulysses Simpson Grant." Thus was it recorded at West Point, and though the attention of the officials was several times called to the error they did not feel authorized to correct it. This name was gradually adopted, and by it Grant was, and always will be, known. But as for any record of the birth of "Ulysses Simpson Grant," that does not exist.

SEPTEMBER EVERYBODY'S MAGAZINE.

A Thirty-Five Cent Magazine For Ten Cents.

The feature of the September number of Everybody's Magazine is Frederic Funston's article about Aguinaldo's capture. Soon after that brilliant feat the Editor of Everybody's cabled to the heroic Kansas offering him a large sum for the exclusive story of the expedition. A reply was received accepting the proposal, and as soon as possible the manuscript was sent on. It was received just in time for inclusion in the September issue, and was accompanied by a number of fine photographs taken by Lieut. Burton J. Mitchell, member of the little band of Americans who accompanied Funston. The article is too long for one number of Everybody's, and the balance goes over to the October issue. The entertaining style and direct manner of statement characterizing it bring home the fact that Funston is a capable writer, having fairly gained his spurs in the journalistic field. The narrative is full of interest, and is not only the authoritative history of a most gallant exploit but, on its merits, an exceedingly interesting contribution to magazine literature.

KING SOLOMON AND THE QUEEN OF SHEBA

In Connection With John Robinson's to Big Shows Combined.

This wonderful spectacle has a breadth of effects which surprises and delights. Its gorgeous processions, and splendid ballrooms are in comparable, and nothing so vast or imposing has ever been seen in this country before. We gaze upon the ancient city of Jerusalem and the Temple of Solomon animated with life and glowing with color. It is no mere artificial show, but a vivid and vast realization of life in the time of Solomon. The scenes are beguiled by its reality as well as its surpassing beauty and the perfection of its details. At Hopkinsville Friday Sept. 13.

The Renewal A Strain.

Vacation is over. Again the school bell rings at morning and at noon, again with tens of thousands the hardest kind of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all except the most rugged. The little girl that a few days ago had roses in her cheeks, and the little boy whose lips were then so red you would have mistaken that they had been "kissed by strawberries," have already the appearance of health. Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic, which may avert much serious trouble, and we know of no other so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation, and aids mental development by building up the whole system.
